

THE DAILY REBEL.

on Market street, nearly opposite the Post Office.

CHATTANOOGA:
TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30, 1862.

ATLANTA HOSPITALS.

We have received the following note from Montgomery, Ala., which, together with the contributions mentioned in the communication to the Montgomery Advertiser, shows the interest felt in our sick-soldiers by the noble people of Alabama. We have intended, for some time past, to publish weekly reports from the different hospitals here, knowing the anxiety of the loved ones at home, but from the pressure of business have been unable to call on them and make out the reports. If the Surgeon at each hospital will furnish us with a weekly report, it will afford us great pleasure to lay it before our readers, and we now respectfully solicit from them such reports. For the matter referred to in the note of Dr. Herron, we presume the Surgeon of the Post would have been the proper person to have directed it to, but if he or any one else, having the means of knowing, will give us the desired information we will receive it as a favor and publish it.

OFFICE GENERAL HOSPITAL,
Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 24, '62.

SIR.—You will confer a favor on the government and the officers of this Hospital, by informing us, as soon as possible after the receipt of this, of the number of sick soldiers at the present time, in Chattanooga and vicinity.

JAS. S. HERRON,
Asst. Surgeon, C.S.A.

The following communication we find in the Montgomery Advertiser of the 26th. We are not acquainted with Mr. Campbell, but will be glad to form the acquaintance of any one exerting himself in such a laudable undertaking as helping our sick and wounded soldiers:

Mr. Editor:—The following donations to the Hospitals at Chattanooga, were sent into Mr. Bell's store to-day: T. B. Maddox, $5; Robert D. Ware, $10; J. F. Johnson, $10; Mrs. Carpenter, $5; and Miss Carpenter, $5. Thanks to those kind donots.

Any donations sent to Chattanooga, care of the Rebel office, will be thankfully received.

JOHN P. CAMPBELL,
Montgomery, Sept. 25, '62. Agent.

Why cannot Chattanooga get up a "Rebel Association" for the benefit of our sick and wounded soldiers? Since the effort of our young ladies in August, in their much admired "bleus," nothing has been done. Let an organization at once be formed. There is plenty of willing hands and liberal purse in our city and vicinity to make such an organization reflect credit on us.

THE NEWS FROM KENTUCKY.

The telegraphic intelligence of yesterday is calculated to leave many in a quandary as to the whereabouts of Buell and his forces. We give no credit to the dispatch from Cincinnati and Louisville, which states that Buell is at Salt river, unless he has gone there, as several disappointed aspirants for the Presidential chair in former times have gone, to be rowed up. Our dispatches from Murfreesboro' give intelligence of Gen. Bragg to the 23d, and we are satisfied that Buell could not flank him and get to Louisville without his knowing something of it. But if Buell is there, he has deserted his command and gone it alone.

DAILY BULLETIN, WINCHESTER, TENN.
—We welcome with pleasure this spirited little daily to our exchange list. Mr. W. J. Slatter, editor and proprietor, is well qualified to conduct it in a manner to satisfy the many readers who will be anxious to see a paper from Middle Tennessee. Winchester is located about seventy miles from Chattanooga, near the Nashville railroad, and the Bulletin is the first paper re-established in Middle Tennessee since the Yankees left. We look to it for all important events transpiring in that portion of our State.

The terms for the Bulletin are $1 per month, in advance, and no subscription taken for a longer period than a month.

We are gratified to learn that the ladies about Tullahoma are manifesting their patriotic feeling by furnishing our soldiers with all the comforts and conveniences so agreeable to the weather beaten and worn soldiers. We learn that the smiles of the fair ladies of Tullahoma are bestowed upon our gallant soldiers, so as to nerve their arms to deeds of nobler daring in defense of the fair and beautiful females who honor their parades with their presence, and who have been so kind and attentive to them. All honor be to the noble and patriotic ladies of Tullahoma and Middle Tennessee.

HEAVY ROBBERY.

Mr. James R. Sanchez, of Orange Springs, Florida, was robbed of $5,000 last Wednesday morning, while the Atlanta cars were stopping at Dalton, in a manner more daring and impudent than we have heard of for some time. Mr. Sanchez pulled off his money bag during the night in order to rest better, and placed it in his carpet bag, which he kept under his head or between his feet all the time. When the cars arrived at Dalton, a man ran up to light his cigar at the lamp overhead, but put it out in his efforts. As soon as the car was in darkness, Mr. Sanchez left his carpet bag jerk'd away from between his feet and notwithstanding every effort on his part and also of the passengers, the thief got away knocking down two or three passengers in his hurry. It is needless to say that the man who lit the cigar was also missing when the light arrived. Mr. Sanchez has reason to believe the man is in Atlanta. If Atlanta has any sharp detectives, now is the time to make a handsome reward. See advertisement.

Another of "Observer's" interesting articles will be found in our paper to-day.

Advantages of Chattanooga for Manufacturing Purposes.

NYC 2.

The coal and iron region of this part of our State are beginning to attract considerable attention from men able and capable of making the Pittsburgh of the South. Already has the coal formed a considerable item of export, and a great source of revenue to our State and railroads. The exports for the present month will amount to about 4,000 tons; and had the rear furnished means of transportation it would have been considerably more. We must confess the roads south of this have been remiss in not paying sufficient attention to the manufacturing interests of our young Confederacy; but the demand for coal and coke has become so great that a pressure has been brought to bear upon them by the exhaustion of stocks that were on hand. They have been compelled to turn their attention to the remains of this important article as fast as presented. The Georgia Railroad has fitted up thirty-six box cars, whilst the State and other roads have had to take their box cars for the same purpose; but still there seems to be an unwillingness on the part of the roads to place in an equal footing with other freight.

It would be well for the roads to put up a larger supply of coaches now as at any future time, for the past eight years have demonstrated that the demand almost doubles itself every year.

It may be argued that the present is no criterion of the future. We admit this fact, for we maintain that the demand will increase.

There are several works that are erected for the present or the duration of the war, but there are others that are intended for a permanent investment, and the latter will increase in size, and the consumption will go along.

No one that is not engaged in this business can form any idea of the trouble and expense in getting coal and coke from here to the lower part of Georgia. Most of the large consumers keep a agent here to attend to their supplies at a heavy expense, whilst the small consumer has great difficulty in keeping his in operation; frequently they stop and are compelled to pay their bills whilst they are ill or lose them, with the difficulty of replacing them. This is another heavy tax upon those engaged in manufacturing any article so far from the raw material, as all these expensive items have to be taken into consideration by the manufacturer; it must necessarily swell the expenses of the contracts to an enormous amount, all of which the people will have to pay at some future day.

Had the Government works have been erected at this place a vast amount of work could have been turned out, more than there has been, and at from 20, to 40 per cent less cost.

We did not shut out to discuss political economy, but simply to prove the fact the work could have been done for less money here than elsewhere. Had the same amount been expended here that was spent at Holly Springs, Mississippi, a different result would have been the consequence. The works would have been able to have armed a regiment every ten or fifteen days. If these things are doubled by any one, let them turn to our works here, and they will find they have two months stock ahead, and obtained without trouble or cost of looking after. The advantages of our foundries and iron works must be plain to all; for if parties engaged here and at Atlanta, for instance, furnished their own cars and consumed one car load per day, the party here would require one car and those in Atlanta at least seven. Again, the officers of the Nashville and Chattanooga road have determined to place cars enough upon their road to supply all demands upon them, and run a train daily exclusively for coal, and are prepared to furnish another if necessary.

OBSEVER.

Pork's Officers.—Ninety-seven of Pope's officers being all that were captured in the recent battles on the Rappahannock and Potowmac, were yesterday sent off to Varina, on James River, below Richmond, on parole. This action was taken in consequence of the explicit declaration, from the highest military authority of the Yankee Government, that the orders of Gen. Pope to which exception had been taken by President Davis, were no longer in force. —Enquirer.

There is no man so poor but he has plenty of friends to give him "good advice."

New Advertisements.

Stop Thief—$2 500 Reward.

ON WEDNESDAY MORNING, 24th Sept., the up-to-the-minute news of Dalton, was robbed of a new TABLE LAMP (Signed Carrington) containing besides my clothing a belt with about $5,000, mostly in Confederate notes, were packages of accounts against the Government and subsistence documents. One hundred dollars of the money was on the State of Florida, mostly in half dollars.

The man who robbed me is about 5 feet 10 inches high, has black hair and whiskers (rather full, very hairy,) and was dressed in black with beaver hat, and pretty sure he had an accipitice with him, and probably another came on the car at Dalton.

The aforesaid thief is a fellow who is not returned.

JAS. E. SANchez,

Orange Springs, Fla.

He is to be seen in Middle Tennessee, and will be collected at his place forthwith and without delay. Those men of the regiment who are absent without leave, or who have connected themselves with other commands, may save themselves from certain and severe penalties by a prompt obedience to this call.

The ranks of this regiment have been greatly thinned by eleven months active service. Recruits are wanted for all the companies.

Sept. 24. B. H. CROOK, Maj.

21st Team. Reg't.

The 28th Tennessee Regiment.

This regiment is now on its way and will be at Chattanooga in a few days. All officers and men belonging the 28th in Middle Tennessee will collect at this place forthwith and without delay. Those men of the regiment who are absent without leave, or who have connected themselves with other commands, may save themselves from certain and severe penalties by a prompt obedience to this call.

The ranks of this regiment have been greatly thinned by sixteen months active and hard service. Recruits are wanted for all the companies.

F. M. LAVENDER, Lt. Col.

25th Team. Reg't.

The 20th Tennessee Regiment.

This regiment is now on its way and will be at Chattanooga in a few days. All officers and men belonging the 20th in Middle Tennessee will collect at this place forthwith and without delay. Those men of the regiment who are absent without leave, or who have connected themselves with other commands, may save themselves from certain and severe penalties by a prompt obedience to this call.

The ranks of this regiment have been greatly thinned by sixteen months active and hard service. Recruits are wanted for all the companies.

E. D. STANLEY, Maj.

21st Team. Reg't.

The 19th Tennessee Regiment.

This regiment is now on its way and will be at Chattanooga in a few days. All officers and men belonging the 19th in Middle Tennessee will collect at this place forthwith and without delay. Those men of the regiment who are absent without leave, or who have connected themselves with other commands, may save themselves from certain and severe penalties by a prompt obedience to this call.

The ranks of this regiment have been greatly thinned by sixteen months active and hard service. Recruits are wanted for all the companies.

F. M. CUMMINGS,

Maj. and C. S. A.

Sept. 24. W. J. SLATTER,

For the Rebel.

Advantages of Chattanooga for Manufacturing Purposes.

NYC 2.

The coal and iron region of this part of our State are beginning to attract considerable attention from men able and capable of making the Pittsburgh of the South. Already has the coal formed a considerable item of export, and a great source of revenue to our State and railroads. The exports for the present month will amount to about 4,000 tons; and had the rear furnished means of transportation it would have been considerably more. We must confess the roads south of this have been remiss in not paying sufficient attention to the manufacturing interests of our young Confederacy; but the demand for coal and coke has become so great that a pressure has been brought to bear upon them by the exhaustion of stocks that were on hand. They have been compelled to turn their attention to the remains of this important article as fast as presented.

The Georgia Railroad has fitted up thirty-six box cars, whilst the State and other roads have had to take their box cars for the same purpose; but still there seems to be an unwillingness on the part of the roads to place in an equal footing with other freight.

It would be well for the roads to put up a larger supply of coaches now as at any future time, for the past eight years have demonstrated that the demand almost doubles itself every year.

It may be argued that the present is no criterion of the future. We admit this fact, for we maintain that the demand will increase.

There are several works that are erected for the present or the duration of the war, but there are others that are intended for a permanent investment, and the latter will increase in size, and the consumption will go along.

No one that is not engaged in this business can form any idea of the trouble and expense in getting coal and coke from here to the lower part of Georgia. Most of the large consumers keep a agent here to attend to their supplies at a heavy expense, whilst the small consumer has great difficulty in keeping his in operation; frequently they stop and are compelled to pay their bills whilst they are ill or lose them, with the difficulty of replacing them. This is another heavy tax upon those engaged in manufacturing any article so far from the raw material, as all these expensive items have to be taken into consideration by the manufacturer; it must necessarily swell the expenses of the contracts to an enormous amount, all of which the people will have to pay at some future day.

Had the Government works have been erected at this place a vast amount of work could have been turned out, more than there has been, and at from 20, to 40 per cent less cost.

We did not shut out to discuss political economy, but simply to prove the fact the work could have been done for less money here than elsewhere.

There are several works that are erected for the present or the duration of the war, but there are others that are intended for a permanent investment, and the latter will increase in size, and the consumption will go along.

No one that is not engaged in this business

can form any idea of the trouble and expense in getting coal and coke from here to the lower part of Georgia. Most of the large consumers keep a agent here to attend to their supplies at a heavy expense, whilst the small consumer has great difficulty in keeping his in operation; frequently they stop and are compelled to pay their bills whilst they are ill or lose them, with the difficulty of replacing them. This is another heavy tax upon those engaged in manufacturing any article so far from the raw material, as all these expensive items have to be taken into consideration by the manufacturer; it must necessarily swell the expenses of the contracts to an enormous amount, all of which the people will have to pay at some future day.

Had the Government works have been erected at this place a vast amount of work could have been turned out, more than there has been, and at from 20, to 40 per cent less cost.

We did not shut out to discuss political economy, but simply to prove the fact the work could have been done for less money here than elsewhere.

There are several works that are erected for the present or the duration of the war, but there are others that are intended for a permanent investment, and the latter will increase in size, and the consumption will go along.

No one that is not engaged in this business

can form any idea of the trouble and expense in getting coal and coke from here to the lower part of Georgia. Most of the large consumers keep a agent here to attend to their supplies at a heavy expense, whilst the small consumer has great difficulty in keeping his in operation; frequently they stop and are compelled to pay their bills whilst they are ill or lose them, with the difficulty of replacing them. This is another heavy tax upon those engaged in manufacturing any article so far from the raw material, as all these expensive items have to be taken into consideration by the manufacturer; it must necessarily swell the expenses of the contracts to an enormous amount, all of which the people will have to pay at some future day.

Had the Government works have been erected at this place a vast amount of work could have been turned out, more than there has been, and at from 20, to 40 per cent less cost.

We did not shut out to discuss political economy, but simply to prove the fact the work could have been done for less money here than elsewhere.

There are several works that are erected for the present or the duration of the war, but there are others that are intended for a permanent investment, and the latter will increase in size, and the consumption will go along.

No one that is not engaged in this business

can form any idea of the trouble and expense in getting coal and coke from here to the lower part of Georgia. Most of the large consumers keep a agent here to attend to their supplies at a heavy expense, whilst the small consumer has great difficulty in keeping his in operation; frequently they stop and are compelled to pay their bills whilst they are ill or lose them, with the difficulty of replacing them. This is another heavy tax upon those engaged in manufacturing any article so far from the raw material, as all these expensive items have to be taken into consideration by the manufacturer; it must necessarily swell the expenses of the contracts to an enormous amount, all of which the people will have to pay at some future day.

Had the Government works have been erected at this place a vast amount of work could have been turned out, more than there has been, and at from 20, to 40 per cent less cost.

We did not shut out to discuss political economy, but simply to prove the fact the work could have been done for less money here than elsewhere.

There are several works that are erected for the present or the duration of the war, but there are others that are intended for a permanent investment, and the latter will increase in size, and the consumption will go along.

No one that is not engaged in this business

can form any idea of the trouble and expense in getting coal and coke from here to the lower part of Georgia. Most of the large consumers keep a agent here to attend to their supplies at a heavy expense, whilst the small consumer has great difficulty in keeping his in operation; frequently they stop and are compelled to pay their bills whilst they are ill or lose them, with the difficulty of replacing them. This is another heavy tax upon those engaged in manufacturing any article so far from the raw material, as all these expensive items have to be taken into consideration by the manufacturer; it must necessarily swell the expenses of the contracts to an enormous amount, all of which the people will have to pay at some future day.

Had the Government works have been erected at this place a vast amount of work could have been turned out, more than there has been, and at from 20, to 40 per cent less cost.

We did not shut out to discuss political economy, but simply to prove the fact the work could have been done for less money here than elsewhere.

There are several works that are erected for the present or the duration of the war, but there are others that are intended for a permanent investment, and the latter will increase in size, and the consumption will go along.

No one that is not engaged in this business can form any idea of the trouble and expense in getting coal and coke from here to the lower part